

Pencil Chewer

(written by Sam Forrest, Edward Alan Logie, Dom Smith)

Don't have to say it just because it's true
Don't have to do it just because it's you

Do you even know
Do you even care
Can you let it show
Are you even there
Are you even there

Imagine that I was the only friend you had
Would you still talk shit right behind my back

Do you even know
Do you even care
Can you let it show
Are you even there

Well you know that you've got my number
And you take my hand
And there is no other
I can understand
Well you've got my number
And you take my hand
And there is no other
I can stand

Take look in the mirror you're the same as me
Or are there things that you'll never see

Do you even know
Do you even care
Can you let it show
Are you even there

Well you know that you've got my number
And you take my hand
And there is no other
I can understand
Well you've got my number
And you take my hand
And there is no other
I can stand

Cold eyes be tender
Reveal your nature
Conflict scares me
But what else scares me

(And you know how things are) People keep walking by
(And you know how things are) People keep walking by
(And you know how things are) People keep walking by
(And you know how things are) People keep walking by
 (And the light is always on)
 (And the light is always on)
 (And the light is always on)
